There's a place where people work hard and play hard. Where you expect the best from everyone, because that's what you always give — your best. That place is called Ford Country.

In Ford Country, only the best equipment makes the grade. And that's why people in Ford Country drive Ford Trucks. Trucks that help you get that delivery made on time, carry the really heavy loads and still get you out to your favorite lake while the fish are still biting.

At Ford, we've always demanded the best because that's what our customers expect. And our trucks have stood the test of time for nearly 100 years, a legacy we've proudly driven into the next century. We build trucks that look good, but still work hard. Trucks that take on whatever they're given and come back for more. And Genuine Ford Accessories are engineered and built with the same toughness in mind.

So the next time you're headed for that out of the way spot or working a little overtime, remember — the best way to get there is right through the heart of Ford Country.
